Dear Sir/Madam

We have been using Informagement as our website, newsletter and social media content providers for over five years and they are an essential part of our marketing strategy. Their automated regular news feeds/letters and postings to Facebook, linked in and Twitter give us a high quality presence with minimal effort which allows us to focus on servicing our clients. We have the ability to edit our website content whenever we choose or just sit back when we are busy and allow the Informagement team to keep things ticking over. Their IT expertise and help was vital when we were implementing a cloud based portal which was essential to our GDPR compliance. Highly recommended in all ways.

In accordance with our invariable practice this reference is given without any liability for the writer or the company, express or implied, financial or otherwise, to any party acting or refraining to act on the basis of this information.

Yours sincerely,
